Aims for this presentation

We want to:

- Explain the changes to requirements for RSE from May 2021
- Explain how we currently teach RSE, and get your views on how well this curriculum works.
- Explain how we'll develop our updated curriculum

Relationships & Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education by May 2021

- By May 2021 it will be compulsory for all secondary schools to deliver PSHCE, and to include in that provision, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education.
- This session will explore the necessity and relevance of this educational reform; explain the updated guidance on what schools should be including in their curriculum and how Bramcote College implement this vital part of your child's education.
- You can view the statutory guidance from the Department for Education here: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/relationships-education-relationships-andsex-education-rse-and-Health-education>

Why was the guidance updated?

- The last guidance on Sex and Relationship education was published in 2000 and although it covers important elements of this education, society and the world our young people grow up in has changed rapidly since then and their education in such important matters must be able to keep up with these changes.
- Significantly, the new guidance places emphasis on Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) indicating the significant importance of relationships education preceding sex education and that the two cannot be taught in isolation.
- Health Education ensures that students are educated about their body, healthy lifestyles and choices, mental wellbeing and the impact of these issues throughout their life.
- The new guidance was informed by Government consultation with over 40,000 people including religious, youth and charitable organisations, parents, students, teachers and educational leaders.
- It aims to ensure young people are given the necessary knowledge and skills required to make informed choices and live a healthy and fulfilling life.

Statutory guidance for secondary schools: Relationships and Sex Education (RSE)

Compulsory in all secondary schools in England.

- Parents can withdraw from Sex education (not Science) but not from relationships education.
- Child can request sex education without parents consent 3 terms before 16th birthday.
- 'The aim of RSE is to give young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds, not just intimate relationships.'

Building on what they learned in Primary school, by the end of Secondary school students will have learned about:-

- Families
- Respectful relationships including friendships
- Online and Media
- Being safe
- Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

Statutory guidance for secondary schools: Relationships and Sex Education (RSE)

This will include lessons covering: Information about and laws relating to:

- Female genital mutilation (FGM)
- Child sexual exploitation (CSE)
- Marriage
- The age of consent
- Violence against women and girls
- Information and image sharing online.
- Gender identity
- Sexuality
- Abortion
- Pornography
- substance misuse
- hate crime
- radicalisation/extremism and exploitation (including in intimate relationships and through gang involvement)

Lessons will be taught at an age appropriate time and in an age appropriate way; using resources or teaching guidance that have been produced or endorsed by reputable organisations such as; the PSHE Association, NSPCC, Brook Advisory service, CEOP, to name only a few, or funded by the government in line with their statutory guidance.

When deemed necessary trained specialists will aide in the delivery of highly sensitive content. PSHCE Staff are well trained to deliver the content.

Statutory guidance for secondary schools: Health Education

Compulsory in all secondary schools in England (no opt out).

- 'Starting point for health and wellbeing education should be a focus on enabling pupils to make well-informed, positive choices for themselves.'

Building on what they learned in Primary school, by the end of Secondary school students will have learned about:-

- Mental well-being
- Internet safety and harm
- Physical health and fitness
- Healthy eating
- Drugs, alcohol and tobacco
- Health and prevention
- Basic first aid
- Changing adolescent body

Our Policy

In writing our policy we have been informed by:

- Statutory guidance
- Evidence based research from the Sex Education Forum
- PSHE Association
- Keeping Children Safe in Education (Statutory Guidance)

Our policy can be accessed and read in full on our website, here

The underlying principles of our policy are to:

- Educate our students to make safe, healthy and fully informed choices throughout their life.
- Provide opportunities for students to reflect on their own values and influences regarding relationships.
- Provide honest and factually accurate information.

How is RSE / PSHCE taught at Bramcote?

- One period per week (75 minutes) for years 7. Combined curriculum to include RSE, PSHE, Careers and Citizenship. Plus a separate period per week (75 minutes) for Religious Studies.
- One period per week (75 minutes) for years 8 – 11. Combined curriculum to include Religious Studies, RSE, PSHE, Careers and Citizenship.
- Compulsory for all students in Y7-11.
- Some elements of the curriculum are also covered in other subjects:
 - Science – sex education
 - ICT – online safety
 - Food Tech / PE – healthy lifestyles

Supporting your child at home:

We regularly post information & guidance on the topics covered in RSE & PSHCE on our social media and newsletter. Also, please do not hesitate to get in contact if you feel you need further information or guidance.

Your Views

We welcome your thoughts and questions on our provision of RSE & PSHCE.

- Do you think this curriculum meets your child's needs?
- What do we do well? What could we do better?
- Is there anything we're not covering that you think we need to address?
- Is there something we could cover more/less?
- What do you think about the way we currently deliver RSE to pupils?
- As a parent, do you feel like you need more information or guidance on specific topics?
- If you have any questions regarding the RSE curriculum, or wish to make any comments regarding its teaching at school, please do not hesitate to contact our Assistant Headteacher and DSL Faye Psrker Dennis (faye.parkerdennis@whptrust.org) or our Curriculum Leader for PSHCE Sophie Anderson (sophie.anderson@whptrust.org).
